Bsbcus501C Manage Quality Customer Service. How can Quality, Time and Cost be balanced? "Quality" does not come about by accident; it is achieved through careful planning and execution. Customers regardless of who they may be deserve the best quality product your department can supply.

Elements and Performance Criteria1. Plan to meet internal and external customer requirements. Investigate, identify, assess, and include the needs of customers in planning processes. Ensure plans achieve the quality, time and cost specifications agreed with customers. Ensure delivery of quality products and services. Deliver products and services to customer specifications within organisation's business plan. Monitor team performance to consistently meet the organisation's quality and delivery standards. Assist colleagues to overcome difficulty in meeting customer service standards. Monitor, adjust and review customer service. Develop and use strategies to monitor progress in achieving product and/or service targets and standards. Develop and use strategies to obtain customer feedback to improve the provision of products and services. Develop, procure and use resources effectively to provide quality products and services to customers. Make decisions to overcome problems and to adapt customer services, products and service delivery in consultation with appropriate individuals and groups. Manage records, reports and recommendations within the organisation's systems and processes.

Kris Cole throws light on the gap between theory and practice in the 5th edition of Management - Theory and Practice. She explains management theory in everyday language, and puts it in a context that makes it easy to understand. This resource will help you develop the vocabulary you need to communicate effectively with colleagues and equips you with models and frameworks to tackle management challenges. In addition it will enable you to strengthen your 'hard skills', like managing poor performance, being more directive and solving problems permanently.

Combines the techniques of fiction and nonfiction in order to tell the story of the love between Susette Gontard ("Diotima") and the poet Friedrich Holderlin.
