This book chronicles the divergent growth trends in car production in Belgium and Spain. It delves into how European integration, high wages, and the demise of GM and Ford led to plant closings in Belgium. Next, it investigates how lower wages and the expansion strategies of Western European automakers stimulated expansion in the Spanish auto industry. Finally, it offers three alternate scenarios regarding how further EU expansion and Brexit may potentially reshape the geographic footprint of European car production over the next ten years. In sum, this book utilizes history to help expand the knowledge of scholars and policymakers regarding how European integration and Brexit may impact future auto industry investment for all EU nations.

For more than a decade, Richard John's monthly columns in "Conference News" have been the first port of call for readers around the world. Now, for the first time, the best of those columns are available in one place. "Since Richard John has been writing for "Conference News" his work has been entertaining, insightful and, sometimes (for some) upsetting. His remarkable insights into the UK events industry, coupled with a cutting edge sense of irony, make his articles the first point of call for many readers Richard's reach is broader than CN magazine, of course, and woe betide any peddlers of falsehoods, smoke and mirrors merchants or conference snake oil salespeople. Be afraid, be very afraid, the RJ sting is very much in the events tale." Paul Colston Managing Editor, Conference News

When you start a new managerial role, there is an inevitable contrast between what you believed you would find and what you're actually faced with. And Now What? helps you manage this gap between expectation and reality, ensuring that you get off to the best possible start in your new job.

The decapitated body of a thirteen-year-old girl turns up at a coastal location in Mar Menor. Not far from the place, the Police finds a sleeping young man wearing a bloody t-shirt and displaying clear signs of alcoholic intoxication. The solution of the case seems so evident, that the Captain of the precinct where the events occur, assigns it to a rookie inspector thinking that this would be a good way to get the new cop's feet wet in investigative procedure. Chief De la Mata expects the case to be closed promptly. That is how, from one day to the next, Juanito Proaza finds himself partnering veteran policeman Paco Garrido, who likes to use unorthodox methods, and working closely with Doctor Luzon, a brilliant pathologist and a great master at presenting his findings with great dramatic flair. Juanito heads an investigation that gets complicated by the minute and eventually results in the uncovering of a sordid net with multiple tentacles, among these a mysterious literary society dedicated to paying cult to...angels.
